

Georges Loddiges (1786-1846) - The Botanical Cabinet

 No copyright (public domain)

The Botanical Cabinet is a companion series of colour plates to the Curtis's Botanical Magazine. It was published from May 1817 to December 1833 by Georges Loddiges and his father Conrad Loddiges, two famous english nurserymen (see <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Loddiges>). The normal edition was made of fully hand-coloured plates; a cheaper edition with partailly coloured plates (see Hoya Pottsii on the right) was also available. George Loddiges gave some comments to each plant illustrated, and often he added religious considerations. The plates devoted to cacti and succulents and some other exotic plants are presented in the files below.

- The files are made from the material proposed by the Biodiversity Heritage library \(BHL\)¹⁾.
- Volumes 1 to 20 can be consulted at or downloaded from the BHL²⁾.

- Read online in the reading room

- Download:

- Interpreted file: BotanCab.pdf (5.2MB; 2012-01-23).
- Original file: BotanCab_O.pdf (9.4MB; 2012-01-23)

- Genus and species must be considered in the historical context (19th century).

¹⁾

You will find there for free other old documents concerning plants.

²⁾

If you use these files, you must comply with the rules of the BHL library

From:

<https://www.cactuspro.com/biblio/> - Bibliothèque numérique du CF

Permanent link:

<https://www.cactuspro.com/biblio/en:loddiges>

Last update: 2017/12/16 16:26

